

LOCATION Coleraine, Co. Londonderry

PROJECT MANAGER Marc Nugent

COMPLETION June 2013

The Data Centre at the Coleraine campus of the University of Ulster was built as an extension to Block X of the facility. It contains all computer systems, telecommunications and associated components for the university's data system, as well as a reception area, delivery area, storage area and workshop.

Michael Nugent supplied all mechanical works to the new-build, ranging from heating, plumbing and sanitation to ventilation, air-conditioning and BEMS wiring.
